

PNSA Training Centre

The PNSA Training Centre (TC) has been established since 1997 under initiative and support from Asian Institute of Technology (AIT) (funded by DANIDA) and Ministry of Agriculture Forestry and Fishery. First, TC received technical support from AIT, Saint Mary's University and Marine Institute of Memorial University (funded by CIDA) as well as the assistance from Lemon College, Agriculture Development Denmark Asia (ADDA), FAO and AusAID. The TC provided training's courses that focus on fisheries and some of other related fields. Then, during 2001-2004, under the support from ADDA project phase II, the TC offered efficient short course trainings in broader fields in agriculture. The TC has a strong commitment to and focus on building capacity of human resources in Agriculture. The current building of the Training Centre is provided by the People of Japan, under KUSANONE grassroots project. The centre is committed to offer efficient training to build capacity and knowledge within the agricultural sector.
